THREE CENTS PER COPY
$8 per Year.

The Chicago Tribune.

The Cheapest Thing in This World.

VOLUME XLVI. FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1886—TEN PAGES. PRICE THREE CENTS.

MRS. PENDLETON KILLED.

SUDDEN AND FATAL ACCIDENT TO THE EX-SENATOR'S WIFE.

She and Her Daughter Nichol Scene a Carriage While Driving in Central Park, New York—The Mother's Skull Fractured, Death Resulting Almost Instantly, and the Daughter Severely Injured—The News Called on Minister Pendleton at Berlin.

New York, May 21.—[Special.]—A fatal accident occurred to a carriage in Central Park shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon resulting in the death of Mrs. Alice Pendleton, wife of ex-Senator George H. Pendleton, United States Minister to Germany, and the painful though not fatal injury of Miss Jane Frances Pendleton, their 20-year-old daughter, current from Berlin about two months ago on a visit of acquaintance to her aunt, Frank E. Pendleton, who recently lost his wife, and their sons Augustus of the Scott, at No. 10 East Thirty-fifth street. About 5 o'clock this afternoon Miss Jane and Frank E. Pendleton, Jr., started from their home in Central Park in a one-horse carriage. They were just to right of the Webster statue when a runaway horse came tearing behind the carriage, and the horse plunged and kicked. The coachman was pulled over the dash-board and fell to the road. Jane was hurled to the ground, and MYSTERIOUS ARRESTS.

FOUR STRANGE PRISONERS AT THE CENTRAL STATION HOUSE.

A Florida Sheriff Who Thinks He Has Some Fugitives—A Teacher of Modern Languages Held Under Charges of Being Implicated in an Attempt to Blow Up a Building—Other Arrests.

Four mysterious arrests were made last evening by Detective Cook and Chief of the East Chicago Avenue Station. The first was made shortly after 7 o'clock, when Cook arrested a man who gave the name of Frank Schmidt, and who was charged with having in his possession a number of burglars' implements. They were found in a valise which Schmidt had in his hand when arrested. The next arrest was made about 8 o'clock, when Cook arrested a man who gave the name of Edward Hall, and who was charged with being implicated in the attempt to blow up the building at No. 1 Dearborn street. Hall was arrested on the corner of Dearborn and Madison streets. He was taken to the East Chicago Avenue Station, where he was identified by Schmidt as the man who had employed him to do the job. Hall denied the charge, and said that he was a teacher of modern languages, and had been employed by a man who had given him the name of Hall, but whose real name he did not know, to translate some letters which he had in his possession. Hall was locked up.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Cook arrested a man who gave the name of Charles Hall, and who was charged with being implicated in the attempt to blow up the building at No. 1 Dearborn street. Hall was arrested on the corner of Dearborn and Madison streets. He was taken to the East Chicago Avenue Station, where he was identified by Schmidt as the man who had employed him to do the job. Hall denied the charge, and said that he was a teacher of modern languages, and had been employed by a man who had given him the name of Hall, but whose real name he did not know, to translate some letters which he had in his possession. Hall was locked up.

The fourth arrest was made last evening by Detective Cook and Chief of the East Chicago Avenue Station. The prisoner gave the name of Charles Hall, and

SURE TO BE INDICTED.

A VERY STRONG CASE MADE OUT AGAINST ALVEY ST. CL.

Witnesses Going to Show that a Plot Really Existed to Annihilate the Police at the Democratic Meeting—Evidence of the Gathering Prepared to the Grand Jury by the Police Yesterday—Result Expected Early Enough Next Week.

The testimony against Alvey Lamoille's master of the grand jury secret state-jurors a week the 1st, of Ogle and the indictments, and that the acts of police conspiracy, and that the acts of police conspiracy in the Haymarket outrage. Among the important cases of the indictment of Grant was the announcement, to the acts of the jury, of August Spies' autobiography of the Haymarket affair known as the "Autobiography," which was described previous to the opening of the day and which was to be presented to the jury and which was to be the candidates of the Knights which Spies, Fielden, Schwab, Neebe, Parsons, and Fielden, Parsons, and Schwab, and Fielden, Parsons, and Schwab, the jury will not witness until accident of the guilt or innocence of one defendant, who is accused of burial under the county board from Haymarket to the August, and who perhaps was the person who so strikingly threw a bomb in the midst of the police, and one other person who is supposed to have played an important part in the tragedy. It is understood that if upon the adjournment of the jury this afternoon it has not been taken care of the jury will be directly summoned to the courthouse to-morrow morning and the indictments would have been found.

A tableau showing was spent in the jury-room with the prisoners. They were very cordial and evidence was taken from there with [illegible] Spies Bridge, Oyster Bay, [illegible] and Spies were present. Spies was very [illegible] in the room he exhibited that he was a [illegible] of an educated Socialistic society of [illegible] persons and made the [illegible] but of way of speech. The [illegible] and that he had to belong to the society in order to hold the position to which he [illegible] that other members of the society [illegible] of time to perform of any responsibilities. This was another [illegible] of the [illegible] of the society [illegible] and were to take [illegible] place. All were [illegible] to the [illegible] of the society as to what occurred at the meetings. The last attended meetings of the society [illegible] to which speeches or orders [illegible] to a conference were made to secure parties. [illegible] were made to secure parties. Many were in attendance of the witnesses and [illegible] of Chicago to the number of [illegible] The testimony of [illegible] to the point of Spies, Schwab, Fielden, and Parsons in instigation and assistance of the murder of the police officers and another Tuesday night. Further evidence of the [illegible] that Clark Spies, the brother of the witness, had one other person who is not to mention, had taken [illegible] and [illegible] were present at the meeting and [illegible] and [illegible] were a witness to the [illegible] and were guilty of or had an [illegible] in their participation in that affair. Here it will be in order to [illegible] further evidence to [illegible] were taken [illegible] Spies, Clark Spies, [illegible] Fielden, Fielden, and Schwab, the jury will not witness until accident of the guilt or innocence of one defendant, who is accused of burial under the county board from Haymarket to the August, and who perhaps was the person who so strikingly threw a bomb in the midst of the police, and one other person who is supposed to have played an important part in the tragedy. It is understood that if upon the adjournment of the jury this afternoon it has not been taken care of the jury will be directly summoned to the courthouse to-morrow morning and the indictments would have been found.

Several of the jurors are much flustrated at the hasty dismissal of the witness Lingg. Fielden, [illegible] to the [illegible] Schwab, [illegible] to [illegible] Parsons, [illegible] to [illegible] Spies, [illegible] to [illegible] Grant, [illegible] to [illegible] Neebe, [illegible] to [illegible] Fielden, [illegible] to

The Tribune.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

DAILY EDITION.

SUNDAY EDITION.

WEEKLY EDITION.

FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1886.

ANDREW QUARTLEY, an American marine painter of some prominence, is dead.

THE Governor of New York has signed the bill permitting women to practice law.

LOUIS WALLEN, alias Charles Crosby, was hanged in the jail at Kingston, N. Y., at 11:15 o'clock yesterday morning for the murder of Edwin Kalmel Jan. 7, 1885.

M. DESPRÉAUX-SAINT-HILAIRE was yesterday elected President of the Greek Chamber of Deputies. He was the nominee of M. Tricoupis, who, it is now certain, will form a Ministry.

THE Illinois Republican Campaign Committee met in Chicago yesterday and distributed $1,000 in the lines and Springfield as the place for holding the next State Convention.

THE wholesale price of beer in this city has been reduced 50 per cent, but in the retail trade the size of the glasses remains the same and the combination of foam and undrinkable suds the usual added.

THE House yesterday defeated the Senate's amendment to the Post-Office Appropriation bill commonly known as the "subsidy amendment," and which sought to appropriate $500,000 for the foreign mail service under the guise of aiding American shipping interests.

THERE is some alarm in naval circles in regard to the United States man-of-war Kearsarge, which sailed for Hampton Roads from Montevideo, Uruguay, seventy-three days ago, and has not since been heard from. The ordinary time for the passage under sail is forty days.

THE House Committee on Commerce has instructed Chairman Reagan to report the enacting clause of the Cullom Inter-State Commerce bill with the provisions of the Reagan bill as an amendment in place of the provisions of the Cullom bill. This will bring both measures formally before the House.

THE engineers in eighteen passing cells of St. Louis struck yesterday for an advance in wages and the adoption of the eight-hour system. About 600 men are affected directly and 500 or 600 more indirectly. The proprietors will grant neither of the demands, and will shut down indefinitely unless the men return to work.

THE New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company's report for the quarter ending March 31 shows that the gross earnings aggregated $7,041,000 and the operating expenses $4,700,000. Fixed charges of $1,000,000 left profits of $900,000, somewhat more than three-fourths of 1 per cent on the stock, while a 1 per cent dividend ($884,-000) was paid. The accurate therefore disclose a deficit for the quarter of $84,000.

THE Senate Committee on Commerce will continue its daily meetings, having practically to sit during the session of the Senate to consider the River and Harbor bill. It has concluded to make a preliminary study of the measure as it came from the House, item by item, before deciding upon anything, and its members have agreed not to make any disclosures regarding the committee's work until the preliminary examination shall be completed.

THE following important real-estate transfers were made matters of record yesterday: Lumber street, southwest corner of Twelfth, 400 feet to river, with 1,000 feet to adjoining block, dated May 19 (The Young & Farrell Diamond Stone Saving Company to J. F. Hall), $400,000; Polk street, southeast corner of Hoyne, all of Block 72 except part conveyed to city, dated May 19 (J. F. Hall to The Young & Farrell Diamond Stone Saving Company), $241,000.

WILLIAM WARNER, the proprietor of a restaurant on Washington street, discharged a bartender named Webster eight days before, and yesterday afternoon the latter, met Warner on the street and struck him on the head with a cane, fracturing his skull. Warner is the son of Gen. Warner, who was killed in the Confederate army. The assailant, who is under arrest, claims that the blow was struck in self-defense.

THE Illinois Supreme Court yesterday rendered a decision in the case of Mrs. Mary Ann Bickerdike against the Board of Trustees of the Illinois Industrial School for Girls, which sustains the action of the Board in refusing to allow the plaintiff to visit her daughter, who is confined in the institution. The girl was committed to the school by the Criminal Court of Cook County, and the mother claimed that the Board had no right to refuse her permission to see her child.

THE Michigan Crop Report for May says that, compared with vitality and growth of average years, the condition of wheat in the southern counties is 96 per cent, and in the northern counties 95 per cent. These figures indicate an aggregate product of about 32,000,000 bushels. Of the area seeded to wheat, 5 per cent will be plowed up because winter-killed or otherwise destroyed. During the nine months from August to April inclusive the farmers marketed 15,000,000 bushels, or 47 per cent of the crop of 1885, against about 60 per cent of the crop of 1884 marketed in the corresponding time one year previously. The reports of wheat marketed in April were received from 279 shipping and mills, which is a large percentage of the whole number.

THE JARDINE CASE.

Judson, the hostile fellow-man in New York who was found guilty a day or two ago, was yesterday sentenced promptly sentenced yesterday by Judge Barrett, after the denial of the motion for a stay and new trial, to nine years and ten months in the penitentiary. The trial was a fair one throughout. The guilt of the prisoner was clearly established by the evidence of one of his pals and of two other witnesses who heard him make his confession. The sentence is a just one and not a mild one for a man who has not only received bribes and dealt in bonds but kept a house for the reception of stolen property.

If this were the end of the Judson case its conviction and sentence would be matter for public congratulation; but, as regards the proper punishment of the two principal actors in the crime, it is only the beginning of justice. If this case had been tried in England, the sentence passed yesterday would have been the end of it, and Judson today would have been in the penitentiary and would remain there for nine years to come. But criminal cases in this country fairly begin where criminal cases in England have left off. There the trial is one act, here it is five. The finding of a man guilty by the jury and his sentence by the court is but the prelude. Then follow the other acts—stay of execution, new trial, habeas corpus, and appeal—the length of the farce depending on the length of the prisoner's purse. So long as Judson has any money to pay lawyers Judson's case will continue and he will keep out of the penitentiary. Jim Lant knows well "ground to interpose" and "present his rights," as they set in—in other words, they will defeat justice by cunning delays and sharp quibbles, technical stretchings of the law, and loophole interpretation of justice, just so long as the money with to corruptly obtained holds out. The New York World cites a parallel case—that of Buddensieck. It says: "Nearly a year ago Buddensieck, the wood-carver builder, was convicted of causing the death of a man through putting up unsafe buildings and sentenced to a term of imprisonment. An appeal was taken, on which a stay of execution was granted, and today Buddensieck is at large and putting up, it is presumed, more dwellings, hold together by wood-carving." Buddensieck's money held out so that his counsel could work the case through the whole five writs, or as many as were necessary to turn his bone upon the community, after being clearly and legally convicted.

Judson's case has entered upon the same course. Failed in their first effort to stay the sentence and obtain a new trial, his counsel, it is stated, is conspiring with other land-lions in Poughkeepsie, will get out a writ of habeas corpus, returned by telegraph, and when the officers arrive with the warrant at the doors of Sing Sing they will be confronted with the writ and obliged to take him to Poughkeepsie, where he will be held pending the argument for a new trial, and his trial he will get if an appeal from conviction a Judge can be found willing to certify that there is reasonable doubt whether the judgment should stand. In the face of the overwhelming evidence against Judson, and, as the World says, in the face of the sentiments of a Judge who during his long term of office has never had his decision on a point of law in a crucial trial reversed," a new trial cannot be granted without bringing suspicion upon the court that grants it. The despair of the man, however, is that it has seized upon the regular stages of delay and inhumanity which an evil administration of the law allows, showing that Judson's money bill holds out. If Buddensieck can be allowed to go at large and resume his unlawful business why should not Judson be allowed to escape to Texas and resume business at the old locality—stayed, prepared to receive hearty pleas or corporation bribes.

THE MACDONALD MYSTERY.

The explanation of the Irish mystery and of Parnell's death, as given out by Sherard to the secret trial now pending in St. Louis, will strike every person as plausible, to say the least. It appears from the testimony that the two men met for the first time Jan. 31, 1885, on board the steamer Caphalonia, en route to this country. Neither of them had very definite ideas where he was going or what he was going to do after he arrived here. Sherard was something of a surgeon and chemist and had a case of instruments with him. Porter was something of a lawyer, out of business, with indefinite notions of setting up for himself in some American city if he found an opening. Sherard had little or no money, and his only baggage appears to have been a valise and a bicycle. Porter had a few hundred dollars and a considerable quantity of luggage. The steamer steward says of the two men, both were drunk and quarrelsome, brought them to gether, and they became good friends. They landed in New York and eventually turned up in St. Louis, and were seen more or less often together. The next that is known Porter's money is gone, Sherard has it, and Porter is dead. Sherard has left the country, and the mystery is solved.

How comes Sherard and tells his story of what happened. Porter was suffering from a private disease and Sherard advised him to have an operation, and, as it might be a painful one—that of Buddensieck, it says: "Nearly a year ago Buddensieck, the wood-carver builder, was convicted of causing the death of a man through putting up unsafe buildings and sentenced to a term of imprisonment. An appeal was taken, on which a stay of execution was granted, and today Buddensieck is at large and putting up, it is presumed, more dwellings, held together by wood-carving." Buddensieck's money held out so that his counsel could work the case through the whole five writs, or as many as were necessary to turn his bone upon the community, after being clearly and legally convicted.

Judson's case has entered upon the same course. Failed in their first effort to stay the sentence and obtain a new trial, his counsel, it is stated, is conspiring with other land-lions in Poughkeepsie, will get out a writ of habeas corpus, returned by telegraph, and when the officers arrive with the warrant at the doors of Sing Sing they will be confronted with the writ and obliged to take him to Poughkeepsie, where he will be held pending the argument for a new trial, and his trial he will get if an appeal from conviction a Judge can be found willing to certify that there is reasonable doubt whether the judgment should stand. In the face of the overwhelming evidence against Judson, and, as the World says, in the face of the sentiments of a Judge who during his long term of office has never had his decision on a point of law in a crucial trial reversed," a new trial cannot be granted without bringing suspicion upon the court that grants it. The despair of the man, however, is that it has seized upon the regular stages of delay and inhumanity which an evil administration of the law allows, showing that Judson's money bill holds out. If Buddensieck can be allowed to go at large and resume his unlawful business why should not Judson be allowed to escape to Texas and resume business at the old locality—stayed, prepared to receive hearty pleas or corporation bribes.

THE MACDONALD MYSTERY.

The explanation of the Irish mystery and of Parnell's death, as given out by Sherard to the secret trial now pending in St. Louis, will strike every person as plausible, to say the least. It appears from the testimony that the two men met for the first time Jan. 31, 1885, on board the steamer Caphalonia, en route to this country. Neither of them had very definite ideas where he was going or what he was going to do after he arrived here. Sherard was something of a surgeon and chemist and had a case of instruments with him. Porter was something of a lawyer, out of business, with indefinite notions of setting up for himself in some American city if he found an opening. Sherard had little or no money, and his only baggage appears to have been a valise and a bicycle. Porter had a few hundred dollars and a considerable quantity of luggage. The steamer steward says of the two men, both were drunk and quarrelsome, brought them together, and they became good friends. They landed in New York and eventually turned up in St. Louis, and were seen more or less often together. The next that is known Porter's money is gone, Sherard has it, and Porter is dead. Sherard has left the country, and the mystery is solved.

How comes Sherard and tells his story of what happened. Porter was suffering from a private disease and Sherard advised him to have an operation, and, as it might be a painful one, to take chloroform. He commenced, Sherard says, and bought the drug, and administered it either so unskillfully or in such large quantity that the operation caused Porter's death. In his alarm and consternation the first thing he did was to consume drink, and in some way to work a condition that the only thing he remembers is packing the body into one of the trunks, having up the room, and quitting the city, leaving the region that the body would be discovered and that a post-mortem examination would disclose the fact that he did not die by violence. Thus far Sherard's story is not improbable or inept. He states now that he did not take Porter's money in clearly him, as he had no money of his own, having borrowed of Porter on one or two occasions.

If Sherard murdered Porter he must have done it for his money. There is no other motive that can be assigned. But why should he have murdered him in a public hotel, where the body must be left in the room, certain of prompt discovery? The two men had planned to go to Texas on a ranch, which was a very natural scheme for two Englishmen of uncertain prospects. How much easier and how much more natural it would have been if Sherard was plotting to kill Porter for his money for him to wait until they had arrived at some out-of-the-way place in Texas and then murdered him and taken his money. Under such circumstances it might have been a long time before the crime would have been known, and, both being strangers, no one would have been suspected of it. In the St. Louis hotel suspicion was sure to fasten upon the butterfly, as he was known to be out of money, and they were room-mates. While it is possible, of course, that Sherard has manufactured the story out of whole cloth, on the other hand it has an air of plausibility about it. On the surface, indeed, it appears more probable that, finding his friend was dead on his hands, he took his money to make good his own escape out of his bad plight than that he deliberately planned a murder for a trifle which it would be instantly discovered and so avoid all save the chance of escape. It was a radical error of judgment, as the circumstances case all the same, but the prisoner's course at least is possible enough to be taken into account.

THE OHIO APPORTIONMENT.

One of the most suspicious persons now at the Republican headquarters of the State is probably Secretary of State Brinkerhoff (Rep.), who has charge of the returns of the State election, and who, as the head of the Republican State Committee, is the custodian of the campaign funds. Mr. Brinkerhoff is a member of the Republican State Committee, which has charge of the campaign, and is also a member of the Republican State Executive Committee, which has charge of the campaign. Mr. Brinkerhoff is also FIFTEEN MAJORITY.

THEY HAVE SEEN IT GROW.

Today

CHOICE OF 5,000 PAIRS

English Silk GLOVES!
French Silk GLOVES!
German Silk GLOVES!
Marlborough KIDS!
Derma KIDS!
Jersey KIDS!

All sizes, lengths and colors including black.

At 35c!

SCHLESINGER AND MAYER
State and Madison-sts.

LADIES'
FRENCH
Balbriggan
Underwear,
ALL SIZES.
35c!

State and Madison-sts.

FRIDAY
Remnant Day, and the Day of the Week for Special Bargains

Sale of Pearl Buttons continued Today.

W.T. MOORE & CO.
122 and 124 State-st.

BARGAIN DAY---FRIDAY.

On our Basement Floor we shall offer:
French Satines worth 40c, at 20c.
French Gingham worth 20c, at 17c.
1,400 Fine Figured Lawns worth 15c, at 8c.
French Figured Ballste worth 15c, at 10c.
Gerrlock Ginghams worth 15c, at 9 1-2c.
9-4 Bleached Pepperal Sheeting worth 22c, at 16c.
9-4 Bleached Muslin worth 8c, at 6 3-4c.
Fine 4-4 Bleached Muslin worth 6c, at 4 1-2c.
All-Linen Blue Huck Towel, 16x36, worth 15c, at 9c.
Table Linen, good quality, 42 in., worth 25c, at 12 1-2c.
These will be on the Basement Floor.

W. T. MOORE & CO.

VISIT THE
MISFIT PARLORS

Misfit Clothing Parlors,
124 Dearborn-st., 124
Opposite Sabin at Bolagaro

JUNE ATLANTIC

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO., Boston.

HALLET & DAVIS PIANOS

W. W. KIMBALL CO.
State and Adams-sts

WATER TAXES.

FOR RENT.
Store 50x132 with Vault, 142 Madison-st. Apply to
BENJAMIN & WENTWORTH,
Basement Store.

SCHLEICHER, SCHUMM & CO.
SALES OF THE
"OTTO" GAS ENGINE,
REMOVED TO
128 Washington-st.,
CHICAGO.

ABOUT THE BRIDE-ELECT.

MISS FOLSOM HAS PRIVACIES UNDERSTOOD A PUZZLE.

She Sick Grandfather Has Just Died—His Wealth—The Solemn Army of the New York "Sun"—What One of Miss Folsom's Friends Has to Say About the Engagement—Social Events Throughout the Country.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 26.—Col. John S. Wilson, president of Miss Frances Folsom, President Cleveland's fiancée, and proprietor of Folsomville, Erie County, Ga. and here as to wait for several years. Col. Folsom was worth over half a million dollars, and as Miss Frances was a favorite with him it is supposed he left her the bulk of his fortune. The Folsoms, with the exception of the father of the President's fiancée, who enjoys a position more as financial matters, were all wealthy. Besides Miss Folsom, the Buffalo physician, who is now in Europe with Miss Folsom, has already laid a quarter of a million dollars, and will doubtless become a large operator in this town. Dr. Folsom is one of the ledger and counter operatives. The senior Assistant Pastor was for a number of a session of about a residence of Joliet, N. J., where he owned a large farm, and as a retired executive. Wilmore Folsom, a cousin made his a considerable accession to the Folsom family, will not be present at the marriage of the President and Miss Folsom.

The fiancée was born in Wayne, Jan. 21, 1871. His father and Folsom came from Vermont to Buffalo. His two half-brothers are not men of wealth. Oscar Folsom, the eldest, is a prominent politician, and has several times been a candidate for the county treasurership of Erie county. The other half-brother, Frank Folsom, is a young man of considerable promise. He is a graduate of Cornell University, and is a member of the Buffalo Club, the Ellicott Club, the Country Club, and the Buffalo Canoe Club. He is also a member of the Twenty-third Street Association of New York City. He is a member of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Buffalo, and is a member of the Buffalo Canoe Club. He is a member of the Twenty-third Street Association of New York City. He is a member of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Buffalo, and is a member of the Buffalo Canoe Club.

The Democratic party is composed to-night of all sorts and of all colors. Mr. Cleveland is also certain, brought to have support enough for the nomination of the party to be sure of his re-election next fall.

Another Search for Manhattan.

Special Cablegram According to Lieut. Gov. Sloan of Texas, San Diego will decide to locate headquarters of 100,000 for Cleveland if he takes a wife and rest for the Presidency in 1892.

Social Matters in General.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 26.—The evening the Chicago Club gave a dance at the Hotel Richelieu, at which 200 men and women were present. The guest of the evening was Miss, who received "Uncle Jim," and gave other courtesies. The programme was interesting throughout, the waltzing being given by professionals and their dancing partners. The hotel was a most perfect affair.

BOSTON, Mass., May 26.—The meeting Thursday in Music Hall of the Sons of Veterans, under the auspices of the Massachusetts Society, Sons of Veterans, was called to order by Col. Charles Theodore Russell, Commander of the Massachusetts Division of the Sons of Veterans. The meeting was an enjoyable one, and the people left the hall with the impression that they had spent a most pleasant evening.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 26.—The meeting of the Union League this evening was a very large one, and the members present were entertained by a musical programme of the most delightful character.

Funeral of the Late John Mason of Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 26.—[Special.]—The funeral services of Benjamin, Frank Lloyd, and Julius, executors over 1,000 men, stood to-day as a tribute of respect to the memory of the venerable gentleman, John Mason. In fitting harmony of all traits was conducted and the public schools closed, all friends the services were present in the institute of the Congregational church and filled to its 1,000 people, while there was not room for perhaps for 1,000 more to get into the church. The services was presided by the Rev. A. H. Bridges. The eulogy to the great man was very large, including members of the Chamber, Legal Army of the Republic, and deputies of the Union Club-Society. In the hearse to rest was laid to the city.

Labor Quarter, the Pabian.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Labor Quarter, U. S., one of the most distinguished of Masonic master-persons, died yesterday at his residence, No. 41 East Washington square. He died of an affection of the kidneys, complicated with a severe case of jaundice.

THE SHIPPING SITUATION.

A Fair View of Some of the Status Features.

A genuine, active Sales Evening Club, across into Haven in the Providence district, is early a most deliciously funny entertainment. It won't seem of the hilarious actress enough to overcome the natural coldness. It is likely to meet to a rotary-furnished gathering. Sales stories are certain to be found in engineers—of which the only fact is likely to be that it is overstocked with brooms. The fact are pronounceable, and there is an air of expansive economy to it every manner money was given to the sentiment. Commander is to subject rooms, and when the matter comes to cast a look into one the City evasions so they can see back the gift function of an Empire or Albion hills proved by the touch of sugar and pressing words. Most of the orators I have heard—as a rule, humility—have seemed a little dull, and have lacks a back and breathy suppleness in the energy with them. During the ordinary evening of some of the responsible evening of the evening, the Chief of Police, Chief Inspector Byrnes, and other police officials were present, and the Spirit of the Times, the Journal of Commerce, the Commercial Advertiser and the Mail and Express were represented by reporters. The Chief of Police, Chief Inspector Byrnes, and other police officials were present, and the Spirit of the Times, the Journal of Commerce, the Commercial Advertiser and the Mail and Express were represented by reporters.

OBITUARY.

Edward W. Sorenson.

The funeral services of the late Edward W. Sorenson were held at his late home in Fremont yesterday afternoon. Owing to his great wealth of years, his absence had been missed from the public meetings of his talents for a few years past, but his services, especially in the cause of education, have made his name a household word throughout the entire State. The many pupils to whom he was a kind friend and instructor, and the numerous large gifts to philanthropic and educational institutions, will long keep his memory green.

Personal Mention.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 26.—[Special.]—The Chicago Club gave a dance at the Hotel Richelieu, at which 200 men and women were present. The guest of the evening was Miss, who received "Uncle Jim," and gave other courtesies. The programme was interesting throughout, the waltzing being given by professionals and their dancing partners. The hotel was a most perfect affair.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 26.—[Special.]—The General Art Times, representing the art, music and exhibition of the principal cities of Central States, contained here today to attend the meeting. Dr. J. Flower of Boston, and Mrs. A. Barnard of Chicago, Ill., were also present. The Chicago Art Club of which Mrs. A. Barnard is a member, gave a dinner party in honor of the visitors. Mrs. Barnard is also a member of the Chicago Art Club, and is one of the most popular members of the club. Among the other guests present were Mrs. Flower, Mrs. Barnard, Mrs. Barnard, Mrs. Barnard

A PREACHER CAPTURES A BURGLAR

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

FOR MALARIA, GRIP, AND FEVERS.

LEA & PERRINS

SAUCE

JNO DUNCAN'S SONS, N. Y.

BALABREGA!

SHILOH!

CHICAGO OPERA-HOUSE

HER MAJESTY'S OPERA COMPANY.

NEXT SUNDAY, MAY 23,

Grand Sacred and Miscellaneous Concert,

CHICAGO BALL PARK.

BASE BALL.

PHILADELPHIA vs. CHICAGO,

FRIDAY, May 21,
SATURDAY, May 22,
MONDAY, May 24,
At 3:30 p. m.

CENTRAL MUSIC-HALL.

Friday Evening, May 21st,
Saturday Afternoon, May 22d,

TWO GRAND CONCERTS

WM. L. TOMLINS,

Froebel Kindergarten Association.

McVICKER'S THEATRE.

DENMAN THOMPSON

THE OLD HOMESTEAD

McVICKER'S THEATRE.

AMERICAN OPERA COMPANY.

MADISON-ST. THEATRE.

MASTER WHITESIDE

HAMLET.

HOOLEY'S THEATRE

A. G. SUTTON.

HOOLEY'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Miss Lillian Spencer in America.

SITUATIONS—MALE.

SITUATIONS—FEMALE.

WANTED—MALE HELP.

WANTED—FEMALE HELP.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

BOARD AND LODGING.

LOST AND FOUND.

CLAIRVOYANTS.

INSTRUCTION.

FINANCIAL.

BOARD WANTED.

BOARD AND CARRIAGES.

TO RENT—HOUSES.

TO RENT—FLATS.

TO RENT—OFFICES, &c.

WANTED TO RENT.

TO RENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

CITY REAL ESTATE.

SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

CAST-OFF CLOTHING.

FOR SALE.

MISCELLANEOUS.

THE CITY.

PERSONAL.

Prof. A. Agassiz, Cambridge, Mass., is at the Grand Pacific.

Casper Schoch, U. S. N., San Francisco, Cal., is at the Sherman.

IN GENERAL.

Most of the season tasks were delivered yesterday and Monday corpses canvassers will be sent into the Fifth ward.

The old gas dish answer "Parlor" for the price carriers were pronounced the most satisfactory yet. They cost $6.50, and were worn for the first time yesterday. They are light, well ventilated, and have the letter.

George P. Dalton, President of the Standard Manufacturing Company, was left in the Criminal Court in $500 bonds by Justice Scott yesterday for the alleged swindling of a grocer named out of $25.

The temperature yesterday, as observed by Sherman, Corcoran Building, was as follows: 6 a. m., 54°; 9 a. m., 57°; 12 m., 65°; 3 p. m., 67°; 6 p. m., 67°; 9 p. m., 67°; 12 Ph., 67°; 3 a. m., 67°; 6 a. m., 66°. Average, 9 a. m., 64.33; 9 p. m., 64.33.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon the bond of the Lake National Bank was submitted and approved. The other business transacted was of a private character, and related entirely to Board of Trade business matters.

D. McMahon, a schoolkeeper at No. 85 North Market street, was lost in the Criminal Court by Justice Prentiss under $500 bonds to answer the charge of perjury, preferred by Assistant U. S. Attorney Foster on the Criminal docket.

The committee appointed by the directors of the Farmers 1st Prayer's House to arrange for the Anniversary services June 13 met last night and appointed sub-committees on invitations, entertainments, press, transportation, music, ties, and hall-hands. It was decided to accept the Opera House or Haymarket Theater for the meeting, if either can be secured on reasonable terms.

The committee appointed by the directors of the Farmers 1st Prayer's House to arrange for the Anniversary services June 13 met last night and appointed sub-committees on invitations, entertainments, press, transportation, music, ties, and hall-hands. It was decided to accept the Opera House or Haymarket Theater for the meeting, if either can be secured on reasonable terms. A full meeting will be held next Tuesday evening.

The United States Marshal served writs yesterday on a number of South Chicago saloonkeepers, who have been selling liquor without taking out the necessary license. Among those served were Bohlman & Co. and Logan & Co. The warrant in John Barron, who was at the head of the old saddlery firm of Barron, Gilmore & Co. He charges that his bookkeeper, who has since left the city, embezzled considerable money from him, and that he has since been informed that the defalcations have been greater than he at first supposed. The amount is said to be about $5,000.

William McCarthy, coachman to Capt. John Stephens' office, was taken out of the canal yesterday morning by the assistance of a quantity of gas which had leaked out of one of the pipes. Dr. McCarthy resolved that on coming out and entered the room with a lighted paper to look for the leak. The report was that of a concussion, and Dr. McCarthy and others fell on the floor, where they remained for two hours before the Police Court ambulance and firemen were brought to the spot. Dr. McCarthy was not injured.

Chairman Elden said yesterday that the Board of County Commissioners would meet Saturday, May 29, instead of the following Monday, and would then adjourn sine die, it being the last meeting of the quarter. It is also probable, he said, that after that time the board would meet but once in two weeks, as the weekly meetings had been arranged largely for the accommodation of city attorneys, who desired to have them this summer, but as the appropriations have run out due to economy for county meetings is not now so urgent. The succeeding board will, of course, determine for itself the question of holding the weekly sessions or not.

The society organized by the directors of the Seventy-fifth Regiment to arrange for the Jubilee services June 13 met last night and appointed sub-committees on invitations, entertainments, press, transportation, music, ties, and hall-hands. It was decided to accept the Opera House or Haymarket Theater for the meeting, if either can be secured on reasonable terms. A full meeting will be held next Tuesday evening.

The body of A. M. Wood, proprietor of the establishment of A. M. Wood & Co., printers and publishers, at Nos. 151 and 153 Monroe street, was found at the bottom of the elevator shaft in the above-named building early yesterday morning. He had been at work in the office, which is on the third floor, until a late hour the evening before, and the supposition is that after locking up over with the intention of leaving immediately, he stepped into the shaft, which was only a few inches open, and fell to the bottom. Mr. Wood was an unmarried man and lived at Lakeside.

The Sixth Ward Board held a meeting yesterday afternoon. It was voted to pay the $1,000 at bank officers—but the county for the last three years, and the clerk was instructed to have orders on the town for the money. Justices Barton and Kinnon were elected $60 each for their services on the Jail-building Committee, and the Finance Committee was elected $5 a day for services until the completion of their work. Constable Bell was elected to fill the legal vacancy occasioned by the discharge some of the Town Constables (Lyons), to whose accounts there was at the expiration of the term of office a deficit of $1,000.

Abigail Hills, a middle-aged German, appeared before Justice Lucius Booth yesterday on the charge of stealing twelve from a boarder named Lyons, Bullard & Gillis, corner of Wabash and Michigan avenue. A police officer and several other witnesses testified that they found a magazine of knives in the front room, and that other people in the neighborhood were also in the habit of using the room for the purpose. The court fined the prisoner $50 and costs. "I've proven more here from the old country and what they say you have been into jail, but I've proven, all the time, I haven't stolen anything," said the prisoner in his defense. Justice Booth, however, was unmoved by his remarks, and the fine and costs were paid. Mr. Lyons and the officer who arrested Hills were the only witnesses for the State.

Chairman Elden said yesterday that the Board of County Commissioners would meet Saturday, May 29, instead of the following Monday, and would then adjourn sine die, it being the last meeting of the quarter. It is also probable, he said, that after that time the board would meet but once in two weeks, as the weekly meetings had been arranged largely for the accommodation of city attorneys, who desired to have them this summer, but as the appropriations have run out due to economy for county meetings is not now so urgent. The succeeding board will, of course, determine for itself the question of holding the weekly sessions or not

JOHN C. FREMONT.

AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY WHICH WILL BE READ WITH GREAT INTEREST.

The Opening Accounts in the Wild West Forty Years Ago—The Conquest of California—Sketch of Senator Benton of Missouri—A Wife's Courage—Summary of the Contents of a Highly Entertaining Volume.

"The Memoirs of My Life," by John C. Fremont, will be a book of far-reaching interest, judging by all it contains. The publishers (Messrs. Belford, Clarke & Co., give a generous account of its scope and character. The most important part of the life of Fremont's life was told in the University of May 1 in an article entitled "The First Explorer's Route." "History of California," from a personal account of that event, in which, in connection with the geographical movements in the country, should appear in connection with the author in its publication. In connection with the work it is proposed to publish a series of Famous Letters, which the war called forth on the part of Fremont in the middle plan of the book.

The principal subjects of which the book will treat, with the author in its publication, are: the geographical explorations made by the General of Western exploration, the conquest of California, the part of an individual country, and the first political election of the various constellations of the Pacific Coast, and are now to be published in different languages. The first book will be published in the fall of 1886, and will be followed by the second volume, which will be published in the spring of 1887. The first volume will be published in the fall of 1886, and will be followed by the second volume, which will be published in the spring of 1887.

When Mr. Gladstone introduced his Home Rule bill into Parliament, the Marquis of Hartington became a prominent opponent of the measure, and with Mr. Chamberlain led the secession of the Liberal and Conservative forces against the bill. In the events of the time against the bill, in the events of the Home Rule struggle, being a Cabinet, it is said that Gladstone will retire and that the Marquis of Hartington has signified his willingness to accept the Premiership under the circumstances.

(The Rt. Hon. George Augustus Cavendish, Marquis of Hartington, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, Member of Parliament for North East Lancashire, is the eldest son and successor of the late Duke of Devonshire, and was born in 1833. He was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge, and entered Parliament in 1857 as member for the borough of Lancaster. He was Under Secretary for War in Lord Palmerston's Ministry of 1866, and Secretary of State for India in Mr. Gladstone's first Ministry, 1868-74. He succeeded his father as one of the members for North Lancashire in the House of Commons in 1868, and was Postmaster-General in Mr. Gladstone's Ministry of 1880-5. He was elected to the House of Commons for the City of London in 1880, and was Secretary of State for War

Francis R. Peabody & Co.
Mortgages.
Building Loans.
Investments.
No. 115 Dearborn-st.

Office of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company.

BUSINESS.

MONETARY.

STOCKS.

PHILADELPHIA.

BOSTON.

MINING STOCKS.

BALTIMORE.

BY TELEGRAPH.

BOSTON.

NEW YORK.

MISCELLANEOUS.

STAR PACIFICS.

North German Lloyd S. S. Co.

The U. S. and Brazil Mail SS. Co.

STATE LINE

EUROPE! EUROPE!!

Chicago, Grand Traverse & Mackinac

WESTERN.

EASTERN.